THAT MAN IN THE IRON SUIT speeds up invitation sales to the July 1949 class Junior Prom tonight at the Alcazar. Invitations are $3.95 per couple.

Tau Kappa Alpha Chapter Elects Four New Members

Loyola's chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, National Forensic Honor Society, elected four members to its group at a meeting on November 16. Supervising the elections were James A. Perrott, Faculty Advisor, and Edward F. Shea, President.

The four men chosen on the basis of scholarship and oratorical ability are Edward O. Clarke, Lawrence R. Mooney, Edward A. North and Eugene W. Welsh. They join John C. Evelius, Donald E. Fay, Francis X. Gallagher, Winston T. Kourey and Shea as Loyola members.

Current Topics Discussed

Mr. Perrott announced that the group is planning discussions on current topics to be given to members of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs of the city. These groups are being contacted, and a tentative schedule drawn up.

Iula Arranges Carol Program

Another Christmas Carol program at Loyola has been arranged for Sunday, December 12 at 4:00 p. m. in the Evergreen Gymnasium. Felice Iula, Director of Music, has announced that both the Glee Club and Orchestra will take part in the program to which all students and friends are invited.

Featuring Mr. John H. Eltermann playing on the Hammond organ, the carolers will sing the traditional Christmas pieces under the direction of Mr. Iula.

Albert G. Fitzgerald, President of the Glee Club, will render a tenor solo, and Edward J. Waring is scheduled to give a violin solo.

Among the selections is Largo by Handel, to be played by the orchestra.

Debaters Open Season Against Virginia Group

Intercollegiate activity by the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society gets under way for the scholastic year of 1948-49 on December 11 when Hampden-Sydney College and Loyola engage in a pair of debates.

The Virginia school will send two teams, one affirmative and one negative, to debate the Evergreen arguers on the national collegiate debating topic, "Resolved: That the Federal Government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunities in tax-supported schools by annual grants."

Speakers Named

Speakers for Loyola, according to John C. Evelius, President, will be Joseph Reiter and Harry Shock for the affirmative and Albert Morales and Robert Nayden for the negative.

Society members have been preparing both sides of the national question during the past month, in order to prepare for the intercollegiate season, which steps into high gear after the Christmas holidays.

Oxford Invitation

Plans for a trip to Oxford University in England have been discussed, and although no definite word has been received, both Mr. James A. Perrott, Moderator, and the Rev. Matthew G. Sullivan, S.J., Dean, have sanctioned the trip.

Oxford, which debated Loyola at the Museum of Art auditorium last year, extended an invitation to the college last month.

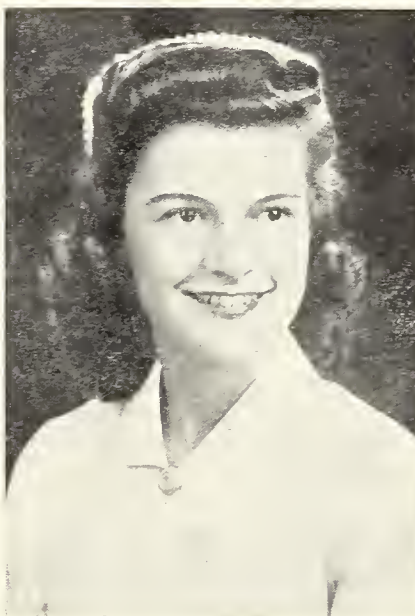

Carl Hamilton's Orchestra Plays For Knights At Alcazar

by Thomas J. Garrity

The House of Evergreen will hold court tonight for its Knights of the Green and Grey and their ladies fair at the Junior Prom for the Class of July 1949 at the Alcazar from 9 to 1.

Theme of the affair will be a return to the age of chivalry and King Arthur and his knights of the Round Table. Men in armor, multi-colored pennants and medieval weapons will serve as part of the decorative scheme.

Prom Queen

Mary Dauses

The medieval motif was selected as a result of a contest held two weeks ago, the date of the winner to act as Queen of the Prom.

Winner of the contest was Edward A. North who will be accompanied by Miss Mary Dauses. Eugene Welsh, Samuel Phelps and William Schulz served as judges.

Music will be furnished by Carl Hamilton and his orchestra. Invitations have been on sale for three weeks in the cafeteria at $3.95 per couple. Dress will be formal.

General Chairman of the Prom is Lawrence R. Mooney with his assistants, John Downey in charge of Decorations; Edward Shea, Tickets; Robert O'Neill and Robert Custer, Advertising; Thomas Daniels, Favors; and North, Program Chairman.

As part of the advertising campaign, Francis Whittle donned a suit of armor last week and paraded across the campus as a mobile ticket-selling booth.

Program Chairman North revealed that letters had been sent to students and friends of the school in an effort to obtain patrons for the program.

January Class Holds Senior Retreat

The Senior Retreat for the class of January 1949 will commence next Friday, December 10 at Manresa-on-Severn and end Sunday evening.

The Rev. Thomas M. Brew, S.J., will conduct the retreat. All Catholic students are obliged to attend. Non-Catholics are also invited.

Manresa was held open especially for this retreat. Usually it closes for the year about the end of November.

NFCCS Unit Plans Meetings

The local unit of the NFCCS will hold its monthly council meeting at Evergreen on Sunday, December 12. Delegates from the eleven member schools in the Baltimore-Washington area will attend, and the main topic of discussion will be plans for the regional Congress scheduled for sometime in early spring.

A recently appointed Constitutional committee of this council will meet here December 14 to begin work on the drafting of a charter for the regional organization. The recent Leadership Workshop, held at Immaculata College, Washington, D. C., was attended by a group of seven from Loyola.

Emedio Bianco is currently organizing a group of Sodalists into an "Apostleship of Good Will", intended to unify and expedite the corporal works of mercy carried on by various students. The unit, although unique, will operate in close co-operation with the NFCCS Confraternity of Christian Doctrine commission.

A clothing campaign is being conducted under the auspices of the Student Relief Drive. Lawrence Atkinson and his committee are in charge of the collection of used clothing, and students are reminded that the drive will continue until the end of the semester. Collections are being made on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10:40 in 1F, in the basement of the Faculty House.

Thirteen Selected For "Who's Who"

Thirteen Loyola students, chosen from the junior and senior classes by the Student Council, have been officially approved by the national organization of "Who's Who Among Students In American Colleges and Universities", E. Clinton Bamberger, President of the Student Council, announced last week.

Chosen on a basis of scholarship, loyalty and participation in extra-curricular activities, the men are Bamberger, Austin L. Byrd, Robert S. Custer, John C. Evelius, Donald E. Fay, Francis X. Gallagher, James J. Lacy, Edward J. McNeal, Raymond E. Parr, Francis X. Rackensperger, Edward F. Shea, Sidney L. Shapero and Raymond C. Wittelsberger.

Quota Originally Eleven

Loyola originally had been given a quota of eleven, but after nomination and voting by the Council, the result was so close that two additional men were added, and all have been approved. In all, approximately thirty men were mentioned before the final thirteen were decided upon.

Those selected will be included in the 1948-49 edition of the "Who's

E. Clinton Bamberger

Who" publication annually edited by the national organization. They have been asked to fill out numerous biography blanks forwarded by the organization.

Active Students

All thirteen have been most active in Loyola activities, and with the exception of Lacy and Shea, all are members of the Student Council.

Bamberger is President of the Student Council and of the Student Body; Byrd is President of the Alpha Sigma Nu Honorary Fraternity; Custer is President of the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society.

Evelius heads the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society; Fay is Editor-in-Chief of the 1949 Evergreen annual; Gallagher is Editor-in-Chief of THE GREYHOUND; McNeal is President of the January 1950 class.

Parr is President of the May 1949 class; Rackensperger is President of the Chemistry Club; Shapero is President of the International Relations Club; Wittelsberger is President of the Athletic Association.

In Other Societies

Shea is President of Tau Kappa Alpha, National Forensic Honor Fraternity, which has not been approved by the Council; Lacy, a star member of the varsity basketball and tennis teams, was President of the freshmen class in 1944 and an officer in the Junior Sodality.

Besides being a member of the societies which they represent on the Council, those chosen are active in many other organizations.

Party Planned For Loyola Night Cast

"The actors get the glory, but the workers get the pay." The Rev. Leo P. Monaghan, S. J., Moderator of the Mask and Rapier Dramatic Society awarded the stage crew of Loyola Night a special dinner last night. In addition, a cast party is being planned for the entire group. This party will be held sometime in early January at the home of Daniel Shehan.

The stage men, in this instance, Robert Custer, James Bowen, Eugene Corrigan, William Houpt, and Joseph Hauf, got the gravy; the fine work they did was well rewarded.

NSA Art Exhibit Closes After Three Day Visit

An afternoon sponsored by the Loyola National Student Association committee and attended by students from Mt. St. Agnes and Notre Dame College formally opened the Student Art Exhibit which today completes its stay in the college library.

Last night, there was a special showing for the Alumni of Loyola. The forty-three pictures on display include water color paintings, oils and charcoal sketches by college students throughout the country. The collection is one of several which the NSA is exhibiting in colleges all over the United States. It was recently displayed at Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Virginia, and then sent to Loyola College.

Surrounding the pictures are screens obtained from the Baltimore Museum of Art by Mr. Charles Niver, a faculty member of the Loyola Evening School.

The display is the first of many activities which the Loyola committee of NSA hopes to present to the students here on the campus.

Retreat

Today marks the start of the annual Alumni Rereat to be held at Manresa-on-Severn until Sunday evening. According to Chairman John S. Connor, Jr., former retreatants have been contacted by letter and by Alumni Newsletter. Connor wishes to remind the Alumni that those who might find it impossible to attend the entire retreat are welcome to make as much of it as possible.

Bowen Speaks To Physicists

The first regional meeting of the Science Commission of the NFCCS took place at Notre Dame College on Sunday, November 21. James E. Bowen '49, Physics Major, gave a talk on "The Cathode Ray Tube—the Heart of Television."

The program started at 2:00 p.m. with lectures in Biology, handled by Alma Duvall of Mt. St. Agnes; Physics-Mathematics given by Bowen and Chemistry taken by a group from Notre Dame. A discussion period followed each of the talks.

Miss Olga Suydam, Science Commission Chairman of Notre Dame, then welcomed the group and introduced the principal speaker, Dr. Francis O. Rice, head of the Chemistry Department of Catholic University. He lectured on "Present Day Problems in Scientific Education."

The meeting ended at 4:30 p.m. after refreshments had been served in the Fourier Lounge.

ASN Alumni Inducts Four

The Alpha Sigma Nu Alumni Club inducted four new members at its regular monthly meeting held in the Loyola College Cafeteria on November 14. The members, who graduated in February were Terrence E. Burke, Thomas F. Comber, James F. O'Neill and John H. Plunkett.

Louis C. Roche, President of the Alumni Association and several members of the Executive Council attended the meeting. Following the regular business, Daniel Bathon showed movies of the Colt-San Francisco football game.

Junior Sodality Resumes Publication of "Vision"

Publication of the Junior Sodality mimeographed newspaper, Vision, will be resumed this year. The first issue of volume II will appear next Monday, December 6.

Ferd Leimkuhler, editor last year, has not yet appointed a new editor for the year. As last year, the paper will cover the activities of the Junior Sodality and also contain editorials on various Catholic topics.

Kaspar Chosen President In June '52 Landslide

Francis X. Kaspar was landslide into the presidency of the June '52 Class in the freshman elections on November 18.

The runner-up in the election, Thomas J. Garrity, becomes Vice-President. Phillip J. Dagostero and George M. Strohecker were elected Secretary and Treasurer, respectively.

High School Class President

Kaspar, a graduate of Loyola High in 1948, enlisted in the Navy in the middle of his third year at high school. He was discharged in August, 1946, after eighteen months of service.

He then returned to Loyola High to finish his high-school education. In addition to maintaining a good scholastic average, he was president of his senior class and a member of both the Holy Name Society and the Sodality.

Sociology Major

At Evergreen, Kaspar is taking the Ph.B. course, and intends to major in sociology. He is a member of the Junior Sodality.

As regards his duties as class president, Kaspar promises to "give

Paynter Wins Rifle Club Shooting Match

Eugene Paynter won the shooting match held by the Loyola Rifle Club at the Calvert Hall Range on November 26. His score was 270 points out of a possible 300. Tied for second place were Joseph Bartolomeo and Winfred von Mayer, both of whom scored 250. Bartolomeo won in the play-off for runner-up honors.

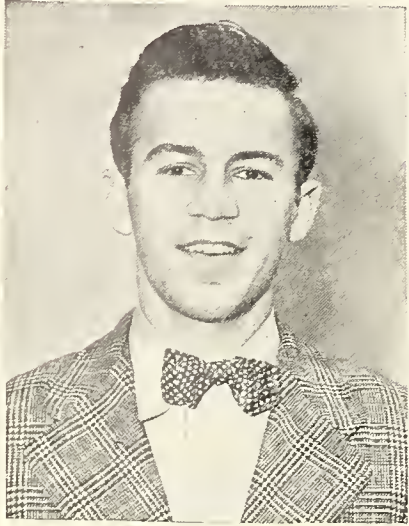

In the candle-snuffing event, 10 members out of 13 snuffed the candle from the prone position; 5 out of the 10, from the sitting position; and the winner, John Herrman, from the standing position.

Twenty-four members of the Club attended the match, at which Vernon Lemmon was range officer.

Students Take Part In Parish Musical

Three members of the class of January, 1950 were listed among the cast of the Third Annual Musical Review presented by St. Thomas Catholic Youth Organization on November 9.

Harry Shock was Master of Ceremonies. Frank Linardi and Edward Martin took supporting roles. During the two hour show at the Alcazar the three students also took part in a special Army skit entitled "Camp Snafu." The show was followed by dancing.

freshmen what they want whenever possible."

Was Quill Editor

Garrity, who was elected Vice-President, and Strohecker, who was named Treasurer, are both graduates of the 1948 Class at Mt. St. Joe.

Both elected candidates were Student Council members in high school. Garrity was editor of The Quill, the Mt. St. Joe student organ. Strohecker was secretary of his senior class.

Calvert Hall Graduate

Dagostero, the newly elected Secretary of the Freshman Class, was graduated from Calvert Hall in 1948, where he was president of his senior class. He is also a veteran.

Other candidates in the June '52 Class election were Howard France and James J. Wintz.

Mendel Club's Third Seminar Scheduled

The third of the Mendel Club's ten annual seminars will be held on December 14, when Richard Milholland will speak on "The Web of Life." The Rev. Joseph S. Didusch, S.J., Moderator, announced that this talk will deal with "the interrelation of organisms in the economy of existence." The customary open discussion and business session of the Club will follow.

"Hypnotism" was the topic of the last meeting, at which Irvin B. Shaffer led the discussion. This seminar, which was held at 1:25 in the Biology Lecture Room, was, as usual, open to all students.

Two more sessions are scheduled before the close of the term: one on January 4, at which John S. Mahle will talk on "Human Heredity;" and another on January 25, at which Hector DiNardo will present his views on "Apes and Man."

Who's Slapping Numbers All Over Loyola's Trees

by Frank Gallagher

Numbered Trees

People have been speculating on the numbers tacked neatly to all the trees on the campus. Several interesting theories have been advanced. One is that the Faculty Members have treasure hunts on the week-ends and that these numbered trees lead them to the prize—a set of Dale Carnegie's books, How To Win Friends and Influence People and How To Stop Worrying And Start Living. This is untrue.

Actually a tree doctor has numbered the trees so that he may consider them as patients. For example, Tree Number 7 has hardening of the birches. The doctor prescribes for the malady and treats the patient accordingly. Trees, I'm told are very sensitive. So please do not walk up to that tottering old elm by the Gym and quip "Your number's up." Joyce Kilmer will hate you.

Definition Of The Week

Mr. Lischka has contributed to the column this week with an original definition. "A hospital," says Mr. Lischka, "is a place where they treat you like a body instead of somebody."

Off To The Pen

Eight members of the Senior Sodality attended Mass and spiritual exercises at the Maryland Penitentiary on Sunday, November 21. They were guests of Father Ayd, who invited them to assist in the work being done by the Ozanam Conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

The eight men were Walter Welzant, Thomas Sweeney, Charles Shoemaker, John McElroy, Richard Reese, Edward Sellmayer, George Brown and James Kaufman.

Coleman Lauds Kaye's "Lonesome" Treatment

Muted troms, the three Kaydets, the pleasing voice of one Don Cornell, and the still smooth and cornish orchestra of the swing-and-sway artist Sammy Kaye have presented for public approval a nice danceable thing on Victor entitled "Lonesome." We were a bit discouraged when we caught Sammy and show at the Hipp because he didn't use this tune. "Lonesome" is a ballad of the standard thirty-two bars—nothing exceptional about it. Mr. Kaye's artistry shines on this one because of the terrific vocal arrangement administered by Cornell and the Kaydets. It's the best part of the record, although I find Sammy Kaye's band quite listenable.

Not knowing too much about Bop, all I can do is introduce to you Woody Herman's recording of "Four Brothers." I've been informed that it's what they call sedate, living-room Bop. Five-percenters take note.

Since Christmas is getting close I might call to your attention that the best artists in the business have recorded the beautiful carols so traditional to the season. You can practically take your pick of artists. To mention but a few, Bing Crosby has several complete albums; Perry Como has one that I know of, as have Jo Stafford, Dick Haymes and Dinah Shore.

News In Brief

The Loyola Bridge Club won its second victory in three starts when four members played Goucher College on November 18. Robert Bordley won individual honors in the match.

Timothy Wilson Plunkett, son of Paul J. Plunkett, '43, was baptized at Blessed Sacrament Church on November 14.

Fall Evergreen Due Next Week

Fall issue of The Evergreen Quarterly will be distributed to the student body early next week. Using a new make-up style and cover, the 58-page magazine contains short stories, articles and poems contributed by Loyola students.

Contributions for the next issue, scheduled for early February, are now being accepted, according to Co-Editors David L. McManus and John Scrimger.

The Critilog

by George Herman

Under assignment of my editor, I was sent to interview Chris Kringle (who, as everybody knows, is the special Santa Claus of Hollywood and Broadway) especially chosen for his ability to carry swimming pools, marihuana and Academy Awards to deserving actors.

Kris admitted me to his private parlor with the cheerful inquiry, "What's de gripe, kid?"

"Just what plans do you have for Maryland this season, Mr. Kringle?" I asked. "Shall we be punished as last season with the usual low comedy and high prices? Will Betty Davis make a comeback? Will..."

"Hold on, Buster!" smiled the jolly fellow. "Dis is your year, Junior. Upon castin' an eye on de chart of past years, I see dat Baltimore hasn't had a good show since 1881."

"So...?"

"So, this season I have sent you several pre-Broadway hits. Red Gloves was just a starter. You'll see Maxwell Anderson's Anna of the Thousand Days (a predestined success); and Phillip Barry's Emperor of China (which is rumored to be as good as his Philadelphia Story). Then, too, I'm throwin' in Allegro as a chaser.

"Then, in the movie line, I'm sending the best shows that Hollywood has turned out in years. Johnny Belinda was only the beginning. A Foreign Affair will run second to Miss Tatlock's Millions; and both will be second-rate compared to June Bride. Incidentally, in answer to your previous question Betty Davis will make a comeback; with the blessings of Robert Montgomery."

"Hollywood will be offering even bigger things to the Monumental City in the coming year with a greater accent on realism to meet the competition from foreign-made celluloids. But if you expect Joan of Arc to top Hamlet in the Venice international awards this year, then I'm afraid you'll get it in

are standing by watching as if it meant nothing to us. While Red hordes pillage and plunder the Orient subjugating more than a billion people, the United States of America is busy holding the line in Europe. On the other end of the earth, we are not even waging a battle.

If the Orient falls to the Reds, World War III will be fought sooner than any of us realizes. The Soviets will have made tremendous gains in three fields.

1. In Manpower: There are approximately 1,500,000,000 people in the Orient. This figure shows that for every one person in the United States, there are eleven in the Orient.

2. In Raw Materials: Rubber, Tin, Manganese and many other materials so vital in waging war.

3. In Strategic Position: With China alone in Red control, Japan will become untenable to the United States. The Philippines will be helpless. The vast treasure house of the Indies will fall like a ripe plum into Red hands. Alaska, highly vulnerable and virtually defenseless, will be within easy reach. In short, if the Communists take over China, they will be in position to start the next World War.

While the world's attention is focused on Berlin, the Reds are sneaking in the back door. 99% of the Chinese oppose Communism, but they are powerless to resist unless we aid them as we are aiding Europe.

We must call upon our public officials to take decisive steps immediately to resist the Red plague in the Orient. Every day that is wasted will have to be paid for by the lives of free men.

Write the President, Ask that he act now!

• To Hold A Valid Class Election

it is necessary that the class members observe the rules governing class elections approved by the Student Council last year. These rules are written in the by-laws of the Constitution and cannot be set aside except by a three-fourths vote of the Student Council.

To prevent future mixups and jumbles, we list the regulations in THE GREYHOUND.

1. Each voting member of the class should vote for three of the seven men nominated. He should vote for a president, secretary and treasurer in that order. The student receiving the highest number of votes for president will assume that office.

The student receiving the second highest number of votes for president will assume the office of vice-president.

2. Each man voting must show his own Loyola College Registration card to the official at the voting booth. He must sign his name legibly.

3. At least two-thirds of the class must vote. If two-thirds do not vote, the election is ipso facto invalid.

Books From The Library

The Seven Storey Mountain

The appearance of The Seven Storey Mountain on the American literary scene gives us fresh hope for twentieth century classics. This autobiographical work of Thomas Merton, a young Trappist of Gethsemani, Kentucky, is one of the outstanding books of this decade. The author writes from his monastery cell using the seven-tiered mountain (Dante's image of Purgatory) as a symbol of the modern world.

Native Of Spain

Thomas Merton was born in Spain, educated in France, England, and is a graduate of Columbia. At twenty-six he entered the religious life after being immersed in the corruption of selfishness.

The story is not a sentimental resume of another convert; the author is very much a young man of the twentieth century. Ten years ago he trod the Columbia campus, indulged in vice and wrote articles for popular magazines. He might be found working on the staff of the New Yorker, so graphically does he depict modern society.

Like Augustine

This tale of God in conquest of a soul he puts very succinctly. "It seems to me that I was armored and locked in within my own defectible and blinded self by seven layers of imperviousness. The capital sins which only the fires of Purgatory or of Divine Love can burn away."

Pacing The Pack:

Brown Leaves More Than His Records Behind Him

by Mickey Parr, Sports Editor

When the Mason-Dixon cross-country title meet was held at Gallaudet, nearly two weeks ago, much ado was made about the record breaking run of Loyola's George Rodney. Few people paid much attention to another George, who finished eighth in the meet and second on the Loyola squad.

That was George Brown, quietly finishing out a brilliant running career as the stoutest-hearted track man that Loyola has boasted in many years. Planning to get married in the near future, George will finish the present semester, and then complete his studies in night school.

When I say he finished his career quietly that one word describes him perfectly. For, if it hadn't been for his outstanding achievements in track and cross-country, one wouldn't otherwise know that this blond-haired athlete had been around.

From the day that he copped his first two mile run, back in the spring of 1946, until this fall, he was the most consistent winner that Coach Bill McElroy had on his squads. McElroy himself will testify that Brown trained more diligently than anyone else, and it paid off.

The best part was that triumphs and glory didn't effect Brown one bit. His hat size remained the same. However, he really showed his mettle during the recently completed hill and dale campaign.

In October a new star shone on the horizon, one that, as good as George Brown was, far outdid the short-legged trackster. George Rodney began winning meet after meet, in record time, and Brown was finishing second to him every time. But it was a dogged, determined second with the one-time leader putting out all he had, and pushing his teammate all the way.

The spotlight moved. Pictures, headlines, and stories shifted the glory and backslapping away from Brown. But it made no difference. He kept quiet. There were no yells for attention, no protests of injustice being done after all he had given to Loyola.

He kept right on, training, putting everything into each race, being consistent. Right now, Bill McElroy is already feeling sorry for himself because he won't have George Brown when the two milers start hitting the cinder paths next spring.

Basketball Outlook Is Encouraging

After viewing the varsity basketball team in action against the Alumni last Saturday night, one couldn't help but conclude that Loyola has the potentialities for a red-hot ball club.

It was anything but a well matched contest, but it definitely showed that Lefty Reitz's basketballers are well ahead of last year's training schedule. With a few wrinkles ironed out, and a good steady diet of confidence mixed in, there's no reason why this shouldn't be one of the best or the best team in Greyhound history. And I hope that doesn't send Mr. Reitz ambling toward the nearest wailing wall.

The starting five are a smooth, well coordinated, accurate-shooting group, replete with tricky passes, and speed to spare. That was expected. The best part was the manner in which the boys 'coming in off the bench' shaped up.

Herb Meinert displayed an increase of one thing that he needed last year, . . . confidence. His shooting eye is deadly and, added to his all-around play, tabs Herb as a fellow who will be hard to keep on that bench.

Sal Cammarata, Bill Ferguson, and Vince Gallagher, three of the smallest men on the squad, gave a lesson in aggressiveness to the rest of their mates. Cammarata has to settle down and relax a bit more, and he'll be okay. If Gallagher can turn his Irish temper into a driving, levelheaded mental attitude, he'll be hard to stop. He has the physical ability.

Bob Barry has to loosen up more. Perhaps his injured ankle is bothering him in some way, although he's still grabbing those rebounds. He and Frank Barrett, reaching 6' 5" each, add that invaluable asset, reserve height. Barrett is due to gain more than a little of the scoring spotlight, judging from the way he clicked on Saturday night.

Buf Zephir, practically an unknown last season, wasn't very spectacular, but he's an improved ball player, whom Lefty Reitz won't have to worry about. Zeph won't be unknown this year.

None of them got to play very long, but the three men up from the 1947-48 B-squad, John Bailey, Ed Hughes, and Jack Simanski, appear to need more actual game experience; although Simanski stands out as a good investment for next year.

Loyola Cross-Country Team Places Second In Mason-Dixon Title Meet

George Rodney, George Brown, Yogi Paszek, Jim Kaufman, and George Kimmerlein, the men who carried Loyola's banner to second place in the M-D championship race, talk shop after the meet.

Roanoke College of Virginia ran off with the annual Mason-Dixon Cross-Country honors, on November 22, as they downed nine other conference schools on the Gallaudet course in Washington. Their total of 37 points far exceeded the runner-up Loyola College team with a score of 75. In third position came last year's champion, Bridgewater, followed by Washington College and Johns Hopkins.

Although Roanoke bunched three men into the second, third and fourth positions, to ensure a victory, the star of the meet was Loyola's George Rodney. This slender, black-haired lad running over a water-soaked course laid low the old Mason-Dixon mark as he ran the course in a record time of 20 minutes and 33.5 seconds.

Mark Lowered

This lowered the mark set by Ed Hackett, of Catholic University, in 1946. Rodney also had broken a previous Gallaudet record when the Greyhounds met the Silents in a dual meet.

Rodney and Alvin Smith of Roanoke College broke from the tape neck and neck. It seemed at first as if Smith intended to give the Greyhound star a real duel for first place honors.

For the first mile and a half it was a heel and toe affair with Rodney holding only a slight lead. At this point the pace was beginning to tell on Smith, and he gradually dropped behind until at the finish he was a half mile behind Rodney. That steady pace, which has characterized Rodney's running, was the important factor as he showed his class against the best in the conference.

Brown Takes Eighth Place

Captain George Brown was the second Loyola runner to cross the line, finishing in eighth position. Brown, who ran first in last year's meet, lowered his record, set in that race, by a half a minute as he finished in a time of 21.31. The other three Loyola scorers were Yogi Paszek, Jim Kaufman, and George Kimmerlein in the twentieth, twenty-first, and twenty-fifth positions, respectively.

Loyolans Play In Hockey League

When the Baltimore Hockey League opened its third season of operations, last Sunday night at the Sports Centre ice rink, Loyola College students were active on three of the league's four teams.

The league's schedule offers double-headers every Sunday night at 8:15, and the Evergreen athletes figure to have a big hand in the festivities.

Foremost among Loyola's contributions are Mel Beeler and Jerry Laroque, Captains of the Sports Centre and Northampton teams, respectively.

Fetting Is Coach

Beeler also fills the role of coach for his team and is generally credited with providing the driving spirit of his club. Jack Fetting, Loyola alumnus, has taken over the Northampton coaching reins from Laroque, who is important in the team's attack.

Basketball

Varsity Easily Subdues Alumni Basketeers, 63-37

by Gerry McCormick

Loyola fans had a preview of the powerful Greyhound basketball team last Saturday night when the Varsity trounced the Alumni squad, 63-37. The game was rough and rather loosely played, but the Varsity maintained such a sizable lead after the first few minutes that the Green and Grey reserves played most of the game.

The polished play of the subs was very heartening, since it showed that the regulars will not have to carry the entire load during the coming season. The starting team of Jim Lacy, Mike Zedalis, Bob Anderson, Andy O'Donnell and Bill Johnson delighted the spectators with their flashing attack and tricky passes.

Zedalis Scores Early

The Alumni took a short-lived lead early in the first quarter, but Mike Zedalis erased it almost single-handedly as he scored seven of Loyola's first ten points. After the first flurry of baskets both teams began substituting freely, and the Varsity pulled ahead to hold a 28-12 lead at half-time.

At the beginning of the second half the Alumni put on a scoring spurt but were still far behind. Tom Gisriel, Sid Roche, Gene O'Connor and the Bock brothers did most of the scoring. Barney Goldberg did a good job of guarding Jim Lacy, while Bernie Thobe, Al Barthelme and Buck Ward also played well.

Cross-Country

Season Is Successful

The Loyola cross-country team has just completed one of the most successful seasons in Evergreen history, and merits a line or two of praise.

Freshman George Rodney broke many records and repeatedly led the pack to the finish line. Coach Bill McElroy anticipates a brilliant future for the former Patterson Park High School star.

Brown Shows Value

Besides setting a new course record for the Clifton Park course, Rodney also won the individual crown in the Mason-Dixon Tournament.

Captain George Brown set a good example for his team mates as he fought for valuable points in every contest. Brown was a consistent point-getter and frequently pressed Rodney all the way.

Extra Points Help

Jim Kaufman, John Paszek and George Kimmerlein gave all-out efforts to produce necessary extra points that meant the difference between victory and defeat for Loyola.

Coach McElroy's fine tutoring was displayed in the almost flawless form of all the runners. McElroy helped to make Kimmerlein, who had never run before, into a very promising young runner.

George Rodney

Bees Pose Challenge

On next Thursday night, Loyola College's cagers meet the initial challenge for the crown they wear as Conference Champions. Baltimore University, the first of a legion of Mason-Dixon opponents to invade the Evergreen campus this year, will be somewhat in the role of David facing Goliath.

Frank Skaff, tutor of the Baltimore quintet, has a strong nucleus about which to build a potential winner and thus shows that his Bees will possess a powerful sting this winter. From the 1947-48 aggregation there are six holdover regulars and it is on their shoulders that he is resting the brunt of the labor.

Wilbur Phelps, John Howell, Don Buttermore, Len Hoen, Vern Mummert, and Jim Peterka saw duty against the Reitzmen last year and are anxious to better their fortunes at the expense of Loyola's varsity five.

January Is Important Month

In January, the chase begins in earnest when Western Maryland entertains the Lacy-led basketballers; and the communiques from Westminster bode ill for Loyola rooters.

The most serious threats along the hardwood trail will spring from American U. and Mt. St. Mary's. Last June's graduations had little effect on the basketball picture at either institution and they have been pointing for the reigning champs since the curtain closed last year's tournament play.

The Eagles from Washington are loaded with talent and the Mountaineers are perennially a headache. "It promises to be an interesting campaign," says Lefty Reitz, "and each team is a contender; but they have to beat us first."

Andy O'Donnell

Bill Johnson

Bob Anderson

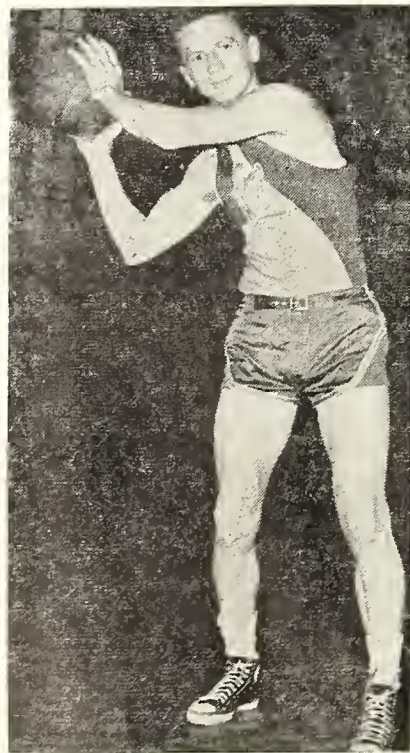

Starting Five Potent Group

With the first two games of the '48-'49 season already history, and the makeup of the starting five tentatively established, Loyola's Basketballers have settled down to a steady diet of scrimmage and practice in preparation for the rugged campaign ahead. It doesn't seem too early then to give a rundown of the lads who will represent the Green and Grey on home and foreign hardwoods this season.

Starting at one forward post is Mason-Dixon Conference scoring star Jim Lacy. At the other forward terminal is Mike Zedalis, a speedy youngster from Freeland, Pa. Holding down at center is Bob Anderson, who looks to be the pivot man that the Greyhounds have needed for a long time. Bob is a former star of Panzer College in Newark, N. J. The guard positions, always the defensive mainstay of any club, are amply filled by Andy O'Donnell and Bill Johnson.

To back up this quintet of starters is a trio of two year veterans, Bob Barry, Sal Cammarata, and Bill Ferguson. Barry is a lanky center and has shown an adeptness for rebound work, while Cammarata and Ferguson are proven and tried floormen. Back again also are Vince Gallagher, Herb Meinert, and Buford Zephir, all boasting of a year's experience under the banner of the Green and Grey. The '47-'48 B squad has given up three of its stars to the cause, with Eddie Hughes, Jack Simanski, and John Bailey making the jump to the varsity.

Coach Lefty Reitz has knit together a well balanced squad, and from the looks of things, it could be one of the top teams of the East.

Loyola Faces Three Major Foes In Early December

by Bob Bourbon

During the first half of December, Loyola's basketball team meets three tough non-conference foes in La Salle, Seton Hall, and the University of Maryland.

When Lefty Reitz's Green and Grey squad takes the floor against La Salle on December 6, and Seton Hall on December 15, they will be tangling with what is known in Eastern Collegiate circles as the "cream of the crop."

Loyola fans are hoping, nevertheless, that after meeting up with Jim Lacy and associates, these important foes will go home feeling more like skimmed milk than anything else.

Edwards Leads Offense

Maryland, while not boasting a power-laden outfit on a par with the two out-of-state teams, nevertheless comes up with a good squad every year, and the Greyhound-Old Liners' clash, to be held at the Coliseum on December 11, is rapidly growing into something of an interurban rivalry.

The College Park quintet have lost their one-two scoring punch of last season, Bill Brown and George Wanish, but still possess a classy pair of holdovers in Joe Edwards and Ted Siegrist. Edwards led his teammates with 16 points in their 63-52 loss to the Greyhounds last winter.

Foust And Saul Offensive Aces

La Salle College, hailing from Philadelphia, can bemoan no such dearth of talent, however. The Explorers are back practically intact from last year's successes, which included an appearance in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

Jim Lacy

ment held in Madison Square Garden.

Their offensive efforts center about a quartet of veterans, headed by elongated Larry Foust, who twice guided his team to victory over the Greyhounds last season by scores of 64-62, and 74-58. In both instances he led all scorers, with 25 points in the first game, and 27 counters in the second.

Aiding Foust in his court entrap is Shorty MacCahan, ball handler and playmaker deluxe, together with defensive stalwarts Joe Greenberg and Bill Gallagher.

The third of the major foes that Loyola faces is Seton Hall. A pair of seniors, Frank "Pep" Sanl, and Dick Hammock, supply the spark for this South Orange, N. J. quintet. Saul is a deadly shot and a fine floorman, while Hammock's forte is his defensive work. The Setonites' pivot spot goes to Harry Renner, a returnee from last season's wars.

Globetrotters Gallop To Intramural Pigskin Crown

by Ed Ward

On a rain-soaked turf in the Evergreen Bowl the intramural gridiron finalists, the Globetrotters and Southpaws, vied last Tuesday with the touch football championship at stake. With typical cold pigskin weather prevailing, a tight well played tilt resulted in the Trotters coming out on top, 19-7.

The Globetrotters broke ice in the scoring column when a well-aimed pass by George Bonar hit the mark, Ed Twele, in the end zone. Reds Lambert caught a pass for the extra point, and the "Trotters" had a 7-0 lead.

After receiving the ball, the Southpaws' attack couldn't get started and they were held for downs. The Globetrotters then repeated their drive down the field and tallied on a play that looked like something you would see in the Gym.

Lambert Scores

A Bonar to Lambert toss clicked and upon being trapped Lambert lateralled to John Corbett. When the "Lefties" closed in on Jack he lateralled back to Lambert who scored unscathed. The try for conversion failed and the "Lefties" trailed, 13-0.

This commanding lead stirred the Portsiders and they determined to tie the score. After marching the full length of the field, they climaxed their drive when Neal Sybert scored on a flat pass to the right from Bill Fannon. The point after touchdown resulted when Rip Roberts trapped a toss in the end zone, just before the half ended.

The second half saw the elevens interchanging the ball frequently, with interceptions dominating the play. Both club's attack bogged down except for the play in which the "Trotters" scored their security touchdown. On this play Bonar tossed a long aerial to Corbett who had shaken himself loose in the end zone. This T. D. closed the scoring for the current intramural season as the Southpaws' last minute desperation passes failed to click.

A Mason-Dixon Conference touch is being given to intramural football by the fact that the Globetrotters are scheduled to play Towson State Teachers and Johns Hopkins this week.

Indoor Track Plans Listed

by Gene Conroy

Tentative plans to form an indoor track team have been announced by Bill McElroy, Loyola's track and cross-country coach. According to McElroy, he needs only the approval of the athletic office in order to carry out his plans.

The team, if formed, will be entered in several meets, including the South Atlantic held annually in Baltimore's 5th Regiment Armory. McElroy also hopes to enter a team in the Washington Post meet, which will be held in the Washington National Guard Armory on January 15.

Other Meets Scheduled

The Philadelphia Inquirer meet, which is scheduled for Convention Hall on January 24, is also included in the coach's plans. George Rodney, the newly crowned Mason-Dixon cross-country champ, has already received an invitation to participate in this well known event.

Two Fold Benefit Cited

It is McElroy's opinion that these meets will be of a twofold benefit for his runners. First, the trackmen will obtain valuable experience since they will be competing with some of the better runners in this section of the country. Second, the squad will be in shape for spring track.

As for those the Greyhounds could send to these events, there are John Brunk, a sprinter; Walt Smyth, high hurdles and low hurdles; Rodney and Jim Kaufman, mile or two mile run.

A meeting, for those interested, will be held in the Gym on December 6, at 4 p. m.

Alumni Bowling

Race Is Close Among Leaders

With the classes of Jan. '43 and Oct. '43 tied and leading the other six members of the loop, the Alumni Association Bowling League has become a red-hot, active event on the sports calendar.

Probably the reason why interest has been so keen is that the first ten men are within a ten point range of one another.

Both the Jan. '43 and the Oct. '43 teams have 9 wins against 3 losses. Number 3 spot is held by the Class of '48 with an 8 and 4 record. High weekly game was rolled by J. Russell of the Class of '42, with a score of 135.

Knocking down 331 pins in 3 games gives Sands of the Class of '44-'45 an average of 110.33, the season's highest average. Russell, Class of '42, and Feeley, Class of Jan. '43 have 104.50 and 104.46 averages respectively, to hold down the second and third positions in individual standings.

The present team standings are:

Team	W.	L.
Oct. '43	9	3
Jan. '43	9	3
'48	8	4
'44-'45	7	5
'47	6	6
'40	5	7

Out-Of-Town Students Organize Campus Society

The accents of several states mingled in the discussion held last Wednesday on the formation of another club at Evergreen. All those students who live away from home while attending Loyola were asked to attend the meeting at which the club was proposed.

There are now forty-eight students boarding at and about the college. Several months ago, John Bailey and Eugene Corrigan began agitation towards the formation of a club on campus to represent their peculiar needs. They had become convinced of the necessity for such a group to represent the students who cope with the problems of housing and allied details, as well as the usual curricular and extra-curricular tasks.

Dean Grants Approval

At the same time, the initiators realized that little good could be accomplished for this large segment of the Loyola population unless they had their own voice on the Student Council. To gain this end they approached the Dean of Studies for his approval of the prospective club. Fr. Sullivan told Bailey that he believed that the club was a worthy idea, and gave it his sanction. Among the purposes envisioned by the first fathers of the club were joint social affairs with the Kymry Club of Notre Dame of Maryland and the boarders of Mt.

St. Agnes. Subsequent suggestions received from prospective members have included some provision for double-dating between out-of-town and Baltimore students.

Name, Emblem Suggested

Corrigan conceived the notion of naming the group the Cosmopolitan Club, and Bailey concocted a coat of arms featuring a top hat (with railroad tickets in the band), cane, dance program and gloves, all against the backdrop of a worn carpet-bag.

Father Hofmann Considers His Busy Life "Humdrum"

The man who has control of the purse strings is certainly an important part in any college's administrative machine and Rev. Andrew Hofmann, S.J., Treasurer of Loyola, makes sure that the Evergreen administrative wheels are well greased.

New to Loyola this year, Fr. Hofmann speaks of a life which he terms "humdrum", but to a listener it would appear that he had made the most of his 40 years in the Society of Jesus.

Entered Society In 1908

Father entered the Society in 1908 and spent four years at St. Andrew-on-Hudson, the Jesuit novitiate at that time. In 1912 he moved to Woodstock to continue his studies and three years later began to teach at St. Xavier's High in New York where he remained until 1920.

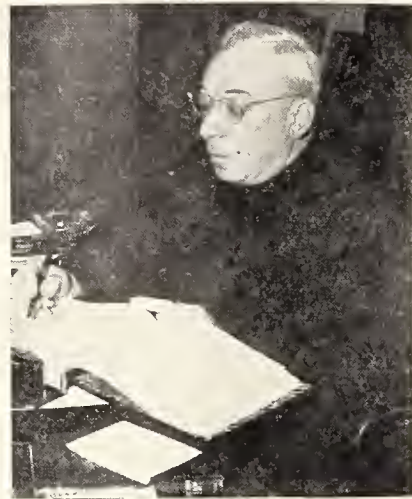

After four more years at Woodstock and two as Prefect of Discipline at Gonzaga, Father Hofmann was transferred to the Philippines where he spent most of his time on the Island of Mindanao in the land of the Moros, the notorious headhunters.

Says Moros Are Peaceful

"They were surprisingly peaceful," he remarked. "In fact they went out of their way to give a favorable impression."

His last ten years before assignment to Loyola were divided between parish work in Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia. He has one particular ambition at Evergreen—to see the grounds beautified so they will be once more the showplace of previous days.

"I'd be content to stay at Loyola," he remarked. "After all I've done enough traveling and would welcome the chance to settle down."

Herman Enters National Contests

George Herman, Loyola's notable student playwright, has entered his most recently written plays in national prize contests. Mountain Song, a story of the "Great Smokies," is at present in competition with other plays from all the nation in the $5,000 Christopher's Contest in New York.

The Paint and Powder Society has received Steamboat 'Round the Bend as Herman's entry in their $1,000 contest. The play is a story of a vagrant named Stephen on the Mississippi in 1860.

Herman has put The Place For Penny in the Normandy Pen competition. He has also entered A Visitor for Christmas in the NFCCS radio script contest.

Father Bunn Speaks Sunday

The Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.J., Prefect of Studies of the Maryland Province of the Society of Jesus, will give a lecture on the topic, "General Education at Georgetown" this Sunday, December 5 at 4 p.m. in the Evergreen library.

This is the second in a series of three lectures on "General Education" which are being sponsored by the Evening School of Loyola College. They are under the direction of the Rev. John E. Wise, S.J., Dean.

Dr. John S. Brubacher, Professor of the History and Philosophy of Education at Yale University, presented the first lecture of the series on Sunday, November 21. Dr. Brubacher stressed the point that General Education is an attempt to reconstruct liberal education in terms of the present without being unduly influenced by historical precedent.

Dr. Brubacher holds a Ph.D. degree from Columbia University, and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and numerous other honor societies.
